BACKYARD BINOCULARS

Be the best Easter egg hunter with your very own set of binoculars!

WHAT YOU'LL NEED

Toilet paper rolls

Washi tape

Hole punch

Glue

Wiggly eyes

Scissors

Coloured wool or string

Pipe cleaners

Pompoms

1 Take 2 toilet rolls and hold next to each other. Tape together at the ends where they meet.

2 Use wool or string to wrap around both rolls helping secure them together. Fasten with tape or knot.

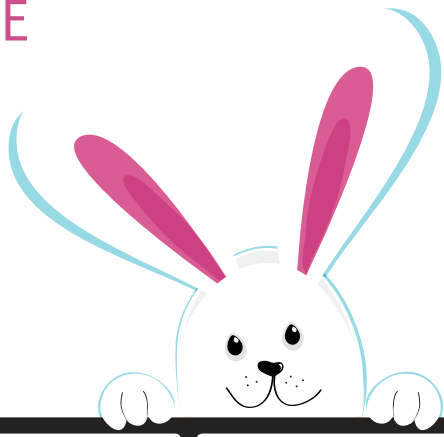

3 At one end of the toilet rolls, use a hole punch on the outer sides for your neck strap. Roughly measure a piece of wool long enough to go around your neck. Knot each end around hole punched holes.

4 To add more personality to your binoculars, use pipe cleaners to create bunny ears and whiskers, pompoms for a tail and wiggly eyes.

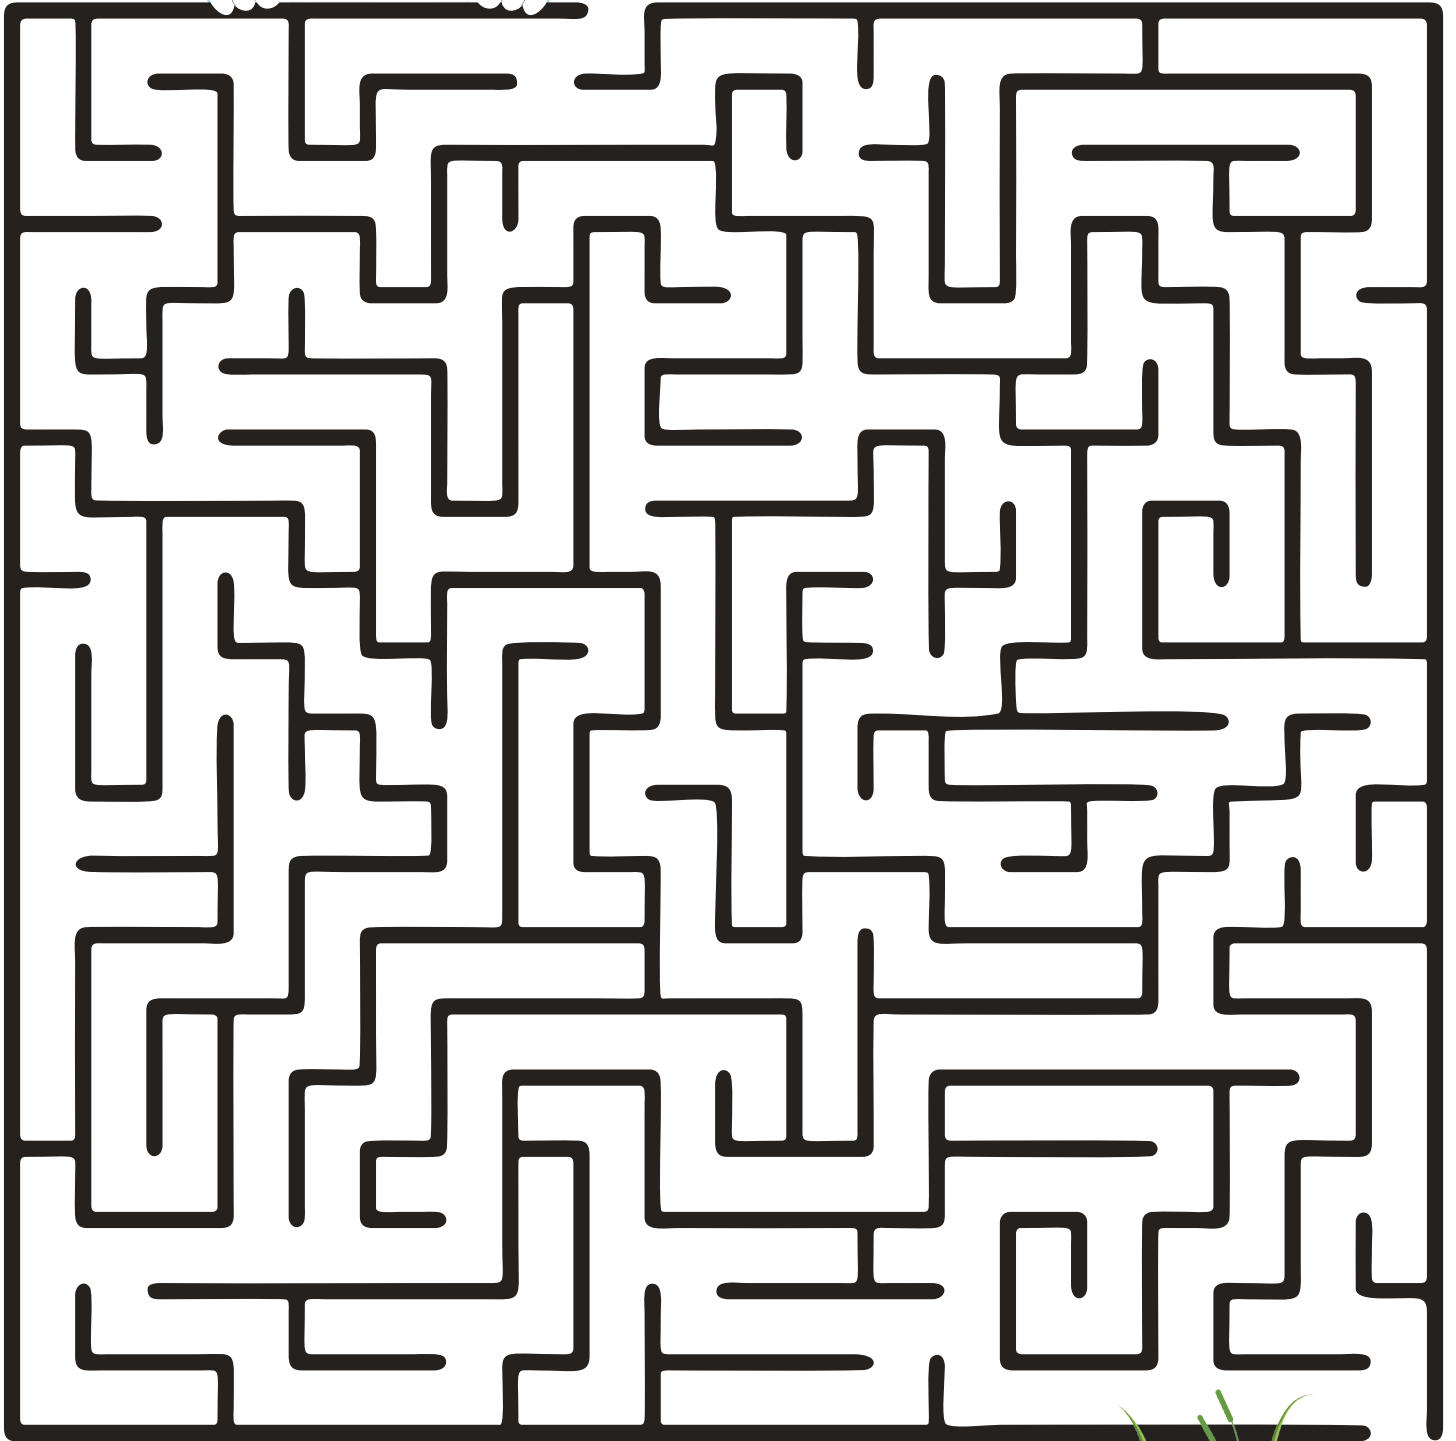

5 Head outside and get ready to hunt!
What can you see?

MAZE

MAKE YOUR OWN EASTER TERRARIUM

WHAT YOU'LL NEED

Glass bowl, vase or jar Funnel
Sand Spoon
Potting mix Easter chicks
Stones — big & small Small Easter eggs
Small plants (succulents & cacti work best)

1

Start with clear glass bowl, vase or jar. Using your funnel, line the base of your vessel with sand.

2

Add a layer of stones approx 3.5cm high to help with drainage (we've used a mix of big and small stones). Add a layer of soil deep enough for plant roots, use a spoon to spread around.

3

Remove the largest plant from its container and dust excess soil off the roots. Using the end of a spoon, make a hole in the soil big enough for the roots and nestle the plant inside, pressing the soil down firmly to hold it in place. We recommend placing taller plants at the back.

Tip: Use a paper towel to transport prickly cacti.

4

Continue planting the rest of the succulents, working from largest to smallest. It's easiest to start at the back of the container and work your way forward.

5

Finish with some landscaping. Place a large feature rock or a few additional pebbles here and there to complete the look.

For a bit of Easter fun, add some Easter chicks, a bunny or small Easter eggs.

Tip: Succulents like direct sunlight every day. Lightly water the base every two weeks or once the soil dries out.
