Mike Wasowski is a feisty, hilarious, one-eyed ball of a monster. Make your very own Mike and fill your day with jokes, fun and a bouncy pal!

YOU'LL NEED

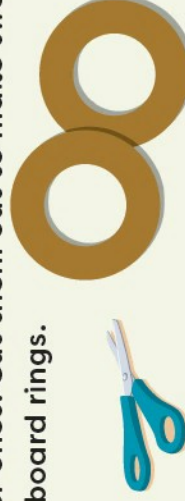

- Cardboard
- Green yarn
- Scissors
- Pencil
- Elastic
- Craft glue
- Large googly eye
- Construction paper (white, blue, green, brown and black)
- Two round lids to use as circle guides (large and small)

*TIP! If you don't have a googly eye, you can make Mike's eye out of construction paper.

STEP BY STEP

1

Trace two circles around a large lid onto a piece of cardboard. Then, using a smaller lid, trace two circles in the centre of the larger ones. Cut them out to make two cardboard rings.

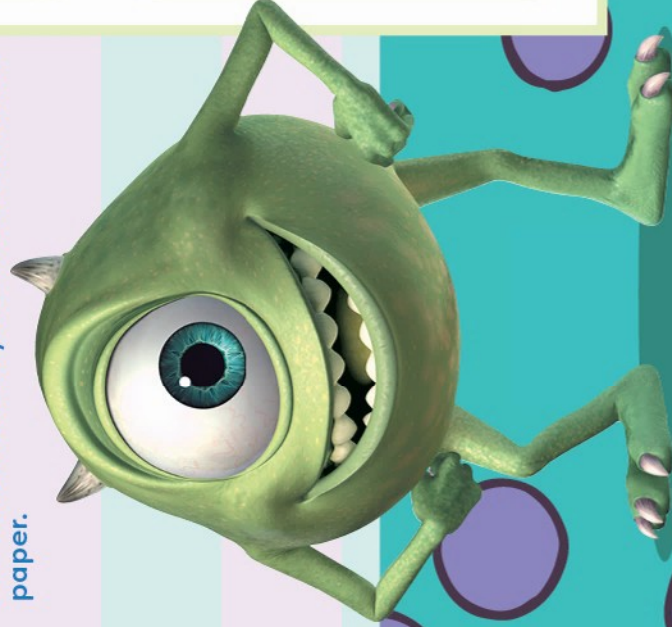

2

Hold the cardboard rings together and start winding the green yarn through the middle and around the rings. Continue until the rings are covered with a thick layer of yarn.

3

Cut the yarn around the outside edge of the rings, and carefully pull the cardboard rings a centimetre apart (without freeing them from the yarn completely). Tie a long piece of elastic around the centre of the pieces of yarn to make a pom-pom.

4

Pull the cardboard circles away. Fluff up the pom-pom and trim the ends if necessary. Braid some 30 centimetre lengths of yarn together for the arms and legs.

5

Attach the arms and legs to the body with glue. Cut out hands, feet, mouth and horns from construction paper and glue them to the arms, legs and body. Finally, glue the large googly eye to Mike's face.
